Songs about Women
BY ROMANOS THE MELODIST

Edited and translated by Thomas Arentzen

DOML 83

A collection of ancient Byzantine hymns featuring women as pivotal characters, now in a new translation.

☛ Heroines and villains, saints and sinners, transgressive and bold, the women featured in eighteen hymns by Romanos the Melodist offer perspectives on gender ideals and women's roles in the early Byzantine world.

The Iberian Apollonius of Tyre

Edited and translated by Emily C. Francomano and Clara Pascual-Argente

A new translation of two medieval Spanish versions of the tale of Apollonius, a story central to the premodern literary imagination and a source for Shakespeare's Pericles.

☛ Incest, riddling, shipwreck, and Lazarus-like resuscitation—this volume presents new editions and English translations of two medieval Spanish versions of the ancient legend of King Apollonius.

COMING SOON IN FALL 2024

The Life of Saint Peter of Atroa

BY SABAS

Ioannis Polemis and Athanasios Markopoulos, with Richard P. H. Greenfield*

DOML 85

An authoritative new Greek edition and English translation of the life of a notable Byzantine monastic leader.

☛ Persecuted for his resistance to Iconoclast policies in ninth-century Constantinople, Saint Peter of Atroa gained a reputation as a miracle worker and his tomb became the site of a healing cult.

The Old English Catholic Homilies: The First Series

BY ÆLFRIC

Roy M. Liuzza*

DOML 86

A contemporary edition and translation of one of the great monuments of Old English literary and religious culture.

☛ Newly edited and in their first complete translation since 1844, Ælfric's first series of Catholic Homilies explains topics from biblical exegesis to saints' lives, in language that laypeople could understand.
